
Migrating Blog Database From ClearDB To Azure DB For MySQL

October 25, 2016 - I am running this blog as a web -application on Azure within the last . MySQL databases through a third party Clear DB hosting provider. I need help understanding why my tables are in . When I run the database through my webserver I get an exception that "There is currently no table with this value. This column is currently empty." I want to see if I can change something in my tables before running the application, to check if it's something. For example, add a column to a table. I can edit my data before starting the database, but I want to see if it's something.
